The Seller may demand, by notice in writing, the Buyer to accept delivery within an additional period of 14 days if the Buyer has not accepted delivery at the fixed time of delivery. Nevertheless, this does not affect the Seller's claim to the purchase price.

6.1 Unless otherwise agreed, all payments must be effected by advance payment or by confirmed documentary letter of credit (or bank guarantee, bond) at least 6 weeks prior to the date of delivery.

The Seller also then is entitled to demand delivery against advance payment. Sentence 1 applies accordingly regarding Seller's delay in payment for another contract with the Seller.

If payment in instalments is agreed and the Buyer delays more than 10 % of the owed purchase price, the entire purchase price shall become due immediately.

In any case, the Buyer loses the right to rely on a lack of conformity of the goods if it does not give notice to the Seller, exactly specifying the nature of the lack of conformity, as soon as he has discovered it or ought to have discovered it.
 After arrangement with the Seller the Buyer is responsible for the securing of all proofs.
- 7.2 (Handling and storage)
 The proof of careful treatment and adequate and dry storage of the goods devolves on the Buyer.
- 7.3 (Remedy of defects, substitutional delivery)

 The Buyer - on reasonable demand and according to the directions of the Seller - is obliged to participate in any repair works. Upon request the Buyer is obliged to send the goods to the Seller for repair.
- 7.4 (Pro rata reduction, termination of the contract)
 If the Seller fails to remedy the lack of conformity according to no. 7.3 by repair or replacement, the Buyer is entitled to a reasonable pro rata reduction of the purchase price. If the lack of conformity is fundamental, the Buyer may fix a final period for fulfilment and after fruitless expiration of such final period demand termination of the contract.

This applies to any damages caused by the defect or rights of third parties, including losses of production, profit or other indirect losses, whatsoever, (losses and damages not incurred in the delivered goods themselves).
 In case of responsibility for a breach of fundamental contractual obligations the Seller is liable, also in case of gross negligence, but only for typical contractual losses which could have been reasonably foreseen. The Seller in any case is liable, however, for gross negligence, for particularly rendered guarantees, fraud, culpable caused damages to life, body or health or if there is compulsory liability regarding physical injuries or damages to private items under German or foreign product liability laws.

If through this execution breaches of third party's intellectual property rights (authorship, design or trademark rights) are committed, the Buyer has to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller from any costs and damages.
- 10. Non-Performance, Impossibility, Inability

- 12. Term of Limitation
 All claims of the Buyer based on a lack of conformity with the contract shall be time limited and statute barred within 12 months from passing of risk (no. 3).

 This does not affect the lawful time limitation of claims, which occur according to no. 8.2.

He shall inform the Seller thereof.
- 13.2 The Buyer shall assist the Seller in taking any measures necessary to protect the Seller's ownership and title to the product in the country concerned. The Buyer shall inform the Seller if any dangers regarding the property of the Seller should occur. This applies especially to disposals of third parties or authority measures.
- 13.3 The Seller – after a reminder – is entitled to cancel the contract and to take back any goods delivered under retention of title after fruitless expiration of a reasonable additional period noticed to the Buyer, if the Buyer does not fulfil his contractual obligations, especially if payment is delayed. The Seller is not obliged to fix an additional period if there are legal exceptions.
- 13.4 The Buyer shall insure the delivered goods at his costs against theft, fire, water damages and other risks for the time until full payment is effected.
